Our main focus is to provide and install the WETATi Center 4 Creative Thinking, Leadership and Business Development programs in schools throughout the USA and abroad; to juxtapose classroom education with practical knowledge of what the students need to become financially independent and successful through entrepreneurship and the like. WETATi believes that in order to empower women to become successful engines for private sector expansion, business opportunities amongst other things, must be made feasible for women systematically, and these programs should be availed to the women as young girls at early stages through platforms like WETATi, as established at the University of Maryland College Park (WETATi Next Generation – UMCP).
